Q1 2023, IFRS derivative trading assets and the impact of netting and collateral, in € bn

Note: For footnotes refer to slides 29 and 30

- Gross notional derivative exposure amounts are not exchanged and relate only to the reference amount of all contracts; it is no reflection of the credit or market risk run by a bank
- On DB’s IFRS balance sheet, derivative trading assets are reported with their positive market values, representing the maximum exposure to credit risk prior to any credit enhancements
- Under IFRS accounting, the conditions to be met allowing for netting on the balance sheet are much stricter compared to US GAAP
- DB’s reported IFRS derivative trading assets of € 246bn would fall to € 17bn on a net basis, after considering legally enforceable Master Netting Agreements in place and collateral received
- In addition, DB actively hedges its net derivatives trading exposure to further reduce the economic risk

Cautionary statements

Forward-looking statements
This presentation contains forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are statements that are not historical facts; they include statements about our beliefs and expectations and the assumptions underlying them. These statements are based on plans, estimates and projections as they are currently available to the management of Deutsche Bank. Forward-looking statements therefore speak only as of the date they are made, and we undertake no obligation to update publicly any of them in light of new information or future events.

By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties. A number of important factors could therefore cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. Such factors include the conditions in the financial markets in Germany, in Europe, in the United States and elsewhere from which we derive a substantial portion of our revenues and in which we hold a substantial portion of our assets, the development of asset prices and market volatility, potential defaults of borrowers or trading counterparties, the implementation of our strategic initiatives, the reliability of our risk management policies, procedures and methods, and other risks referenced in our filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Such factors are described in detail in our SEC Form 20-F of 17 March 2023 under the heading “Risk Factors.” Copies of this document are readily available upon request or can be downloaded from investor-relations.db.com.

Non-IFRS financial measures
This presentation also contains non-IFRS financial measures. For a reconciliation to directly comparable figures reported under IFRS, to the extent such reconciliation is not provided in this presentation, refer to the Q1 2023 Financial Data Supplement, which is accompanying this presentation and available at investor-relations.db.com.

EU carve out
Results are prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) and endorsed by the European Union (“EU”), including application of portfolio fair value hedge accounting for non-maturing deposits and fixed rate mortgages with pre-payment options (the “EU carve-out”). Fair value hedge accounting under the EU carve-out is employed to minimize the accounting exposure to both positive and negative moves in interest rates in each tenor bucket thereby reducing the volatility of reported revenue from Treasury activities. For the three-month period ended March 31, 2023, application of the EU carve-out had a negative impact of €97 million on profit before taxes and of €70 million on profit. For the same time period in 2022, the application of the EU carve-out had a positive impact of €139 million on profit before taxes and of €106 million on profit. The Group’s regulatory capital and ratios thereof are also reported on the basis of the EU carve-out version of IAS 39. For the three-month period ended March 31, 2023, application of the EU carve-out had a negative impact on the CET1 capital ratio of about 2 basis points and a positive impact of about 3 basis points for the same time period in 2022. In any given period, the net effect of the EU carve-out can be positive or negative, depending on the fair market value changes in the positions being hedged and the hedging instruments.

ESG Classification
We defined our sustainable financing and investment activities in the “Sustainable Financing Framework – Deutsche Bank Group” which is available at investor-relations.db.com. Given the cumulative definition of our target, in cases where validation against the Framework cannot be completed before the end of the reporting quarter, volumes are disclosed upon completion of the validation in subsequent quarters.

In Asset Management DWS introduced its ESG Product Classification Framework (“ESG Framework”) in 2021 taking into account relevant legislation (including Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 – SFDR), market standards and internal developments. The ESG Framework is further described in the Annual report 2021 of DWS under the heading “Our Product Suite – Key Highlights / ESG Product Classification Framework” which is available at group.dws.com/sr/reports-and-events/annual-report/. There is no change in the ESG Framework in Q1 2023. DWS will continue to develop and refine its ESG Framework in accordance with evolving regulation and market practice.
